

32-Year-Old Comedian, Who Warned About Vaccine Side Effects, Dies Suddenly

Description

USA: Popular stand-up comedian Nick Nemeroff died suddenly in his sleep on Monday, according to a Twitter post published by his family. He was 32.

Nemeroff received two doses of Pfizer's Covid-19 vaccine and experienced side effects that led him to announce that he regretted the decision to be vaccinated. He later swore he would not get a booster vaccination.

"It is with profound sadness that we announce the sudden passing of our beloved brother Nick Nemeroff," a statement on his Twitter account read.

"Nick's dedication to standup was formidable, and produced amazing results. He drew acclaim in Canada and the US, becoming both a 'comic's comic' and a hit with crowds who were enamored by his unique cadence, labyrinthine deadpan, and fresh take on misdirection-driven comedy," the post added. "If Nick was on a comedy show, he was guaranteed to leave with new fans. And he deserved to, because comedy was, in many ways, his life."

"Endlessly sweet, supportive of others, humble about his many skills and achievements, Nick lived his life doing what he loved, and that is how he will be remembered. RIP Nick. We love you," the statement concluded.

The cause of death has yet to be revealed. His manager, Morgan Flood of Grand Wave Entertainment, told CBC News that he has no information yet on the cause of death but confirmed that Nick “died in his sleep.”

Nick posted a tweet last year in which he detailed side effects following his Covid-19 vaccination and declared that he wished he had his time again so he “could take it back.”

“Ok so I got the vaccine and it did have a side effect...the area the needle went into (if I had to describe it I’d say like, on the top part of my upper arm. If that makes sense?) hurt a bit after,” he wrote. “Seems ok now but honestly do NOT recommend getting it & wish I could take it back.”

Nick posted a second video criticizing the Pfizer Covid-19 vaccine. In the video, Nick can be heard declaring he will not submit to the booster shot.

“I will not get the third shot. I will not. Pfizer me once, no shame. Pfizer me twice, shame on COVID. Pfizer me three times, shame on you. You want me to get a third shot? What’s next? A fifth shot? No, thank you,” Nick argued.
