

7 Hollywood celebrities who are REFUSING the Covid vaccines, and what they have to say about it

Description

USA: Most Americans don't even realize that Hollywood engages in spreading misinformation about important health topics, including food, medicine and vaccines. These warped messages are hidden or out in plain sight during shows, movies, series, commercials and all over the celebrities' social media sites. Everything any celebrity posts or says that is positive about Covid vaccines is now propagated as wonderful, yet any celebrity who so much as refuses or questions the safety or efficacy of the jabs is belittled and falsely discredited. Still, there are more than a handful of celebrities who are refusing the toxic jabs and basically blowing the whistle on them with their interviews, comments, posts and podcasts.

“I won't be a lab rat” and “Untested shots made by criminals” say Hollywood celebrities who know the dangers of the Fauci Flu clot shots

You may know comedian Rob Schneider from the used-to-be-popular sketch comedy show Saturday Night Live. When you work in Hollywood, it's almost mandatory that you toe the line for the media/pharma narratives, who control the advertising and basic funding of the media platforms, so to hear Rob Schneider utterly destroying the “reputation” of vaccination, especially during Covid, is a breath of fresh air.

As of late, Schneider isn't trying to be funny when he tweets out a rant that slams China Flu vaccines. “Just say no... and keep saying no,” as he called the jabs “experimental gene therapy.” Rob went so far as to blast the liberal/Biden Regime hypocrisy posting, “My body, my choice!” and throwing up a cool hash-tag “#2ndAmendmentIsForThis,” meaning if Anthony “Hitler” Fauci sends his inoculation Nazis to your front door to force-vaccinate you, have your guns loaded and ready, and do not accept.

Twitter, Fakebook, YouTube and Instagram will flag any questioning of clot shot philosophy posted by the vaccine cult and their shills

One thing the vaccine/pharma industry still don't seem to understand is that when you block, censor and ban a famous person from posting or speaking out about genocide, you make a martyr of that person and their words. Even if it's their opinion, it should stay published, just like the CDC's opinion that vaccines are safe and effective, when they most certainly are not.

Twitter flags all anti-narrative posts, especially regarding the Covid clot shots, labeling them "misleading" and then they add a link to fake science that says all vaccines are always 100 percent safe and 100 percent effective 95 percent of the time. Even the FDA approval of Covid vaccines was faked.

Schneider calls for "free informed choice" and says we should "never abandon" our principles by accepting coercion to have experimental treatments with "limited safety data." That wasn't all. He even called out all the lies and the fear-based pandemic that caused more destruction than the virus itself, "They have lied, had a 2 year fear campaign and lockdown, destroyed middle class household incomes, bankrupted untold thousands of businesses and are now putting children's lives at risk."
