

Arizona's Turncoat Attorney General Shredded All Hope For Election Integrity

Description

USA: In the most despicable display of political and legal malfeasance in recent memory, Arizona's Republican Attorney General, Mark Brnovich, balked on pursuing criminal charges based on evidence surfaced during the exhaustive election audit following the 2020 presidential election of Joe Biden.

According to the Gateway Pundit,

The full forensic audit of Maricopa County's 2020 election discovered evidence of hundreds of thousands of fraudulent votes. After seven long months of "investigating" the fraud, Brnovich released a report acknowledging "problematic system-wide issues" and confirming that over 100,000 ballots did not have chain of custody documentation.

During 2021, America watched Arizona try to bring election integrity back to the ballot box. Thanks to Brnovich, nothing has changed. America is still in the dark. The 2022 midterm elections are just as likely to be fraudulently mismanaged as the 2020 elections.

Now that the 2000 Mules movie has been released, new evidence (both video and forensic data analysis) is on the table showing that there were at least 200 "mules" operating in Maricopa County to stuff phony ballots into election boxes. Not a peep out of Brnovich. Not even a press release.

If anything, perpetrators are even more emboldened this time around because they know that nothing will happen to them.

Americans deserve to know what happened to the voter integrity movement that gave hope to millions across the nation. One man betrayed us all.
