

Blood Clots, Deaths, and Cover-Ups: Naomi Wolf's Goes Inside the Pfizer Documents (Video)

Description

Naomi Wolf gave a powerful speech at Hillsdale College titled "What's in the Pfizer Documents?" where she shared shocking revelations about the pharmaceutical industry's role in the declining state of American health. In her speech, she explains that while the modern pharmaceutical industry has provided many health- and lifesaving drugs and vaccines, its reputation has come under attack due to the opioid epidemic and the Covid pandemic. Wolf asserts that we are living in a Biblical moment, where God is letting us choose and demonstrating how bad human beings can be when we lose touch with Him.

Wolf, who used to speak on many college campuses every year, was de-platformed and subjected to a global reputational attack for telling the truth about harm to women's fertility via the mRNA injection. However, Hillsdale College, which made the decision not to accept government funding, brought her to campus to speak. In her speech, she disclosed that she spent her entire career on the left, advising Gore in 2002 and Clinton's re-election. She noted that the last three years had shown her that her former world had imploded. But the happy part she reveals is that the left and right are losing any meaning. What matters now, she says, is the Constitution, liberty, and freedom.

Wolf's knowledge of the Pfizer documents comes not from her medical background but from a lawsuit pursued by a lawyer named Aaron Siri against the FDA. The lawsuit resulted in the release of internal documents created by Pfizer as part of the rollout of its mRNA injection. These documents reveal the experiments that led up to the creation of the vaccine and what happened when people were injected with it. Despite Pfizer's request to keep the documents hidden for 75 years, the judge refused, and the documents were made public.

Wolf was concerned as a journalist because she knew most journalists would not be able to understand the technical language in the documents. Pfizer was releasing 55,000 documents a month, and each document could be 10,000 pages long. Therefore, she gathered a team of 3,500 medical and scientific experts, the WarRoom/DailyClout Pfizer Documents Research Volunteers, to read through, analyze and interpret the documents and boil them down into manageable reports.

Wolf's team found that the Pfizer documents reveal the greatest crime against humanity ever. She explains that the documents reveal that Pfizer knew that the mRNA injection causes blood clots and that it was causing deaths. She also notes that the documents show that Pfizer knew that the vaccine did not work as well as advertised and is causing widespread injuries and deaths. She further notes that the documents show that Pfizer was aware of the risks to pregnant women and children but ignored these risks.

In her speech, Wolf expresses gratitude to Hillsdale College for giving her a platform to share these shocking, lifesaving revelations. She believes that every college student in America and every citizen deserves to hear these truths firsthand. Wolf concludes her speech by stating that she believes in the Constitution and the rule of law and that it is our duty to hold the pharmaceutical industry accountable for its crimes against humanity.
