

Buffalo Mass Shooter Cites “Great Replacement Theory” & NY’s “Heavy Gun Laws” In Manifesto

Description

USA: Payton S. Gendron, 18, was arraigned before Buffalo City Court Judge Craig Hannah on a first-degree murder charge on Saturday evening for killing ten people at a Buffalo, New York, supermarket, according to The Buffalo News.

Gendron pleaded not guilty and was revoked bail while awaiting the next court appearance at 0930 ET Thursday. The 18yo white male told the judge, “I understand my charges.”

Local, state, and federal authorities say they're investigating the mass shooting as a racially motivated hate crime. Police said eleven of the 13 shooting victims at the Tops Friendly Market are Black.

Erie County Sheriff John Garcia said Gendron's attack on the supermarket was "pure evil." Erie County District Attorney John J. Flynn said investigators had found evidence showing "racial animosity" was behind the shooting. The FBI is also investigating the incident as an act of racially-motivated violent extremism.

According to NYTimes, investigators were examining a "manifesto" believed to have been written by Gendron that was posted online.

Searching through the 180-page hate-filled manifesto, the 18yo writes about the risk of white Americans being replaced by people of color, also known as the “replacement theory.”

A senior law enforcement official told NBC News they are aware of the manifesto allegedly written by the suspect, and we're working to confirm that he is the author.

In the uncorroborated manifesto (circulating the internet), Gendron says he was radicalized on 4chan at the beginning of the virus pandemic in early 2020. The document's layout is similar to Brenton Tarrant, the white supremacist mass shooter who killed 51 people and injured 40 others in a New Zealand mosque in 2019.

Gendron appears to have copy and pasted Tarrant's manifesto.

Payton Gendron's manifesto

KILL GEORGE SOROS, KILL ERDOGAN, KILL SADIQ KHAN

The paradox of the diverse equality

The greatest joke of all is the quixotic foolishness of the diverse but equal society. Diversity by its very definition belies equality. No two different things can ever truly be equal, especially humans. There is no one person equal to any other, not identical twins, not countrymen, not workers within a class group and certainly not those of differing races. Every human is worth only their own value, no more or less.

Brenton Tarrant's manifesto

KILL ANGELA MERKEL, KILL ERDOGAN, KILL SADIQ KHAN

The Paradox of the diverse equality

Here's another example of the copy and pasting.

Payton Gendron's manifesto

We cannot let them take anymore. We must actively fight for our rights of gun ownership.
THE LAST DEFENSE AGAINST TYRANNY ARE THE PEOPLE'S WEAPONS

Green nationalism is the only true nationalism

Brenton Tarrant's manifesto

Green nationalism is the only true nationalism

There is no Conservatism without nature, there is no nationalism without environmentalism, the natural environment of our lands shaped us just as we shaped it. We were born from our lands and our own culture was molded by these same lands. The protection and preservation of these lands is of the same importance as the protection and preservation of our own ideals and beliefs.

Within the text, Gendron purportedly describes himself as "... a populist. But you can call me an ethno-nationalist eco-fascist national socialist if you want."

Gendron says he planned the shooting based on the “highest percentage and high density of blacks” that can be found near him.

Additionally, as The Epoch Times’ Jack Phillips notes, the alleged manifesto suggests that the shooter chose Buffalo, NY because of its stringent gun laws:

New York state, the author said, “has heavy gun laws so it would ease me if I knew that any legally armed civilian was limited to 10 round magazines or cucked firearms,” likely referring to New York laws restricting magazines to only 10 rounds and laws that limit the purchase of certain types of semi-automatic rifles. New York state residents also need to obtain a permit, which can take months if not years, to buy a pistol under the provisions of the SAFE Act.

“Won’t your attack result in calls for the removal of gun rights in the United States?” the author rhetorically asked himself.

“Yes, that is the plan all along, you said you would fight to protect your rights and the constitution, soon will come the time.”

“NY has cucked gun laws. Assault style weapons and high capacity magazines are illegal for civilians to own, thus lowering threats from law-abiding civilians,” the individual wrote, adding that he obtained a Bushmaster XM-15.

“Since I live in New York, I had to buy a cucked version of this before illegally modifying it,” he said.

Aside from the manifesto that investigators are still combing through to confirm authenticity, The Buffalo News said police in 2021 were notified when Gendron threatened violence to others at his local high school.

“A school official reported that this very troubled young man had made statements indicating that he wanted to do a shooting, either at a graduation ceremony, or sometime after,” a law enforcement official familiar with the case told the local paper.

At the time, NY State Police investigated Gendron under the section of state mental health laws, and he was referred for a mental health evaluation.

The Biden administration responded to the mass shooting, saying, “A racially motivated hate crime is abhorrent to the very fabric of this nation. Any act of domestic terrorism, including an act perpetrated in the name of a repugnant white nationalist ideology, is antithetical to everything we stand for in America. Hate must have no safe harbor. We must do everything in our power to end hate-fueled domestic terrorism.”

Investigators told the NYPost they believe the manifesto is “authentic,” though police are still waiting to analyze Gendron’s computer for confirmation.
