

CDC Director Infected With COVID, Despite Max Vax And Boosters

Description

CDC Director Dr. Rochelle Walensky – who confidently lied last year when she proclaimed “Vaccinated people do not carry the virus and don’t get sick,” has come down with Covid-19 just one month after receiving the latest bivalent ‘omicron-tuned’ booster for the disease.

The CDC said on Saturday that Walensky will isolate at home and attend meetings remotely.

September 22nd: CDC director Rochelle Walensky gets updated bivalent booster that “provides added protection against COVID-19 and the Omicron variant”

October 22nd: CDC director Rochelle Walensky tests positive for COVID-19
