Due to the RINO establishment’s failure to secure the Southern Border, failure to stand up to mask mandates the way Republicans did in Florida, and other issues, Texas voters were energized and excited to put Patriots in positions of power.

However, people were quick to notice that their favorite candidates would LOSE votes that had already been counted. On top of that, there were voting locations that turned down Republican voters, and there was even a very obvious algorithm that used EARLY VOTES to steal the election.

In this video, Alex Sheppard interviews Texas Lieutenant Governor candidate Aaron Sorrells who brings the evidence to the table.

The question for America remains:
