Nawaz, the founding chairman of Quilliam, said that the WEF had installed its members in a leading national role worldwide to further expansion of the organization's sprawling authoritarian agenda.

He added that the government leaders globally have started lifting C-19 mandates and restrictions, leaving in place an apparatus of digital tracking and identification that forms the embryonic stages of a digital social credit score.

"That's what they say themselves," Nawaz stated, emphasizing that the Great Reset by 2030 people will "own nothing and be happy," is explained in detail on the WEF's website.

In the 2020 book called "C-19: The Great Reset," Schwab stated that the C-19 response has to be used to "revamp all aspects of our societies and economies, from education to social contracts and working conditions."

Nawaz continued stating that in 2017 Schwab stated that the WEF's young global leaders would penetrate the cabinets of world leaders.

“So we penetrate the cabinets”.

Members of the WEF's Forum of Young Global Leaders included many well-known faces, “ Canadian Prime Minister Justin Trudeau, New Zealand Prime Minister Jacinda Ardern, French President Emmanuel Macron, former U.K. Prime Minister Tony Blair, Microsoft founder Bill Gates, and Facebook founder Mark Zuckerberg, among many others.”

Nawaz hared that Blair attempted to implement an ID system during the Iraq war and now wants to implement digital IDs in the post-C-19 era.

“So this is going to be this never-ending process to slowly move the goal posts,” Rogan surmised.

“Towards more and more authoritarianism,” Nawaz added. “Checkpoint society. It's all there. They've told us this.”

“People have to realize this, right?” Rogan responded. “This is important.”
