

Leftists Volunteering To Fight in Ukraine Killed After Posting Selfies Disclosing Their Location

Description

UKRAINE: Large numbers of foreign leftists have been killed by Russian missiles in Ukraine after posting selfies on Reddit that disclosed their location.

As if traveling to a warzone to engage in combat for an army riddled with Neo-Nazis wasn't foolish enough, the leftists proved themselves worthy of the 2022 Darwin Award by posting clout-chasing selfies on the internet for the whole world to see – including the Russian military.

Ukraine President Zelenskyy announced last week that 16,000 foreign fighters have been recruited to serve in Ukraine's Foreign Legion, however given recent events it appears the foreign fighters may represent a liability rather than an asset for Ukraine.

Russian strike on Ukrainian Yacorovsky training base this morning reportedly killed around 180 foreign volunteers. The news is being reported by both sides.

A Brazilian foreign volunteer in Ukraine has reported about this news on his Instagram story and stated "the base where we were was attacked now from missiles more than 200 dead, 200! people that came to help the Ukrainian people"

Another Brazilian foreign fighter who survived the Russian strike on the Ukrainian training base stated:
"Thank you God for another day of life. Sad for the friends who died in the attack on our base."

Tell the Ukrainian soldiers and foreign volunteers to stop posting their faces all over the Internet (self.volunteersForUkraine)

The war might turn in an unfortunate direction where you have to walk by the occupiers on some days and fight them on other days.

You are a resistance movement. Stop showing your faces to the occupiers.

China employed mass facial recognition to crush the Xinjiang resistance movements. It would be trivial for Russia to deploy Chinese mass facial recognition tech in the cities they are occupying.

Please stop fucking posting your own faces. You should continue to post Russian losses for morale boosting the Ukrainian resistance. But please mask up yourselves or have someone blur your faces before posting that.

According to Russia, 180 foreign fighters have been killed. And Russian forces do not intend to stop there.

"The destruction of foreign mercenaries who arrived on the territory of Ukraine will continue," said Russian Defense Ministry representative Major General Igor Konashenkov.

"On the morning of March 13, high-precision long-range weapons attacked the training centers of the Ukrainian armed forces in the village of Starichi and at the Yavorovsky military training ground," Konashenkov said in a briefing, according to RIA.

"As a result of the strike, up to 180 foreign mercenaries and a large consignment of foreign weapons were destroyed," Konashenkov continued, according to Interfax. "At these facilities, the Kyiv regime deployed: A point for the training and combat coordination of foreign mercenaries before being sent to the areas of hostilities against Russian military personnel, as well as a storage base for weapons and military equipment coming from foreign countries."

"The base we came from was struck by rockets in the early morning hours. People we lived with for a couple days are confirmed dead. It is only a matter of time before our location is targeted. We are about to be cut off by a Russian tank column any day now..." 2/
