Description

Military Situation In Ukraine On March 3, 2022 (Map Update)

UKRAINE: So the plan is for protracted guerilla warfare? What a wonderful dream for the people of the Ukraine. Is enough of the population radicalized with kooky Banderite propaganda to embrace that as their way of life for five, or ten, or twenty years?

Do you suppose that the Ukrainian government continued the policies in Donbas so that they could cause a Russian invasion and drive the Banderites back into the woods like OUN-B? Who would want a life like that for their children?

We live in an economically integrated globe, and Banderites are obsessed with nationalism and joining NATO. There is no economic nor cultural sovereignty in the west, which is why the US is able to put so much pressure on the NATO vassals.

It's like the Ukrainians don't have any understanding of the world of 2022.

It seems like the mentality that led Ukrainians to join the SS still prevails, and will produce a similar outcome as the one seen in 1945.
