

NY Post journalists ‘vindicated’ after Hunter Biden ‘admits’ laptop is his (VIDEO 4 min)

Description

Journalists at the New York Post have been attacked for more than two years after they uncovered the US President son’s “disturbing laptop” which shed light on dodgy business deals, Jack Houghton says. “If the allegations were against anyone else it would have been a widely celebrated scoop. Instead, the journalists were mocked, belittled, had their work banned from social media and high-profile journalists sought to discredit them,” Mr Houghton said.

“Well today those journalists at the New York Post have been vindicated with Biden now admitting, through his lawyers, that the laptop was indeed his.”
