The lewd Florida drag show comes as Gov. Ron DeSantis vows to crackdown on progressive over issues surrounding “gender identity.” The Florida Governor has threatened to deploy child protective services on parents who take their children to drag queen shows.

“We have child protective statutes on the books,” the governor said in June. “We have laws against child endangerment.”

“It used to be kids would be off-limits. Used to be everybody agreed with that,” DeSantis continued. “Now it just seems like there’s a concerted effort to be exposing kids more and more to things that are not age appropriate.”

Earlier this year, DeSantis signed legislation, which the left has dubbed ‘Don’t Say Gay Bill,’ banning teaching gender ideology for children at elementary schools.

GOP Rep. Marjorie Taylor Greene has introduced legislation that would criminalize drag queen performances for children.

I’m introducing a bill to make it illegal for children to be exposed to Drag Queen performances.

Meanwhile, Democrats and LGBTQ activists are doubling down on their attempt to normalize child sexual grooming as children in attendance of drag queen shows becomes a regular occurrence.
