On Friday, Russian Representative to the United Nations Vasily Nebenzya accused the United States of using birds, bats and fleas for biological warfare, using labs in Ukraine to develop deadly pathogens, including COVID.

Thegatewaypundit.com reports: Nebenzya accused the US was testing coronavirus in Ukrainian bats.

US Representative to the United Nations Linda Thomas-Greenfield denied allegations on Friday regarding the alleged US-funded biological laboratories in Ukraine.

However, she later added that the United States was working with the research facilities “proudly, clearly, and out in the open.” This was after the US Embassy scrubbed proof of the Biolabs and US funding from their webpage.

Linda Thomas-Greenfield made a statement during the Security Council Meeting on Russia’s allegations of military biological activities in Ukraine.

Sadly, Ambassador Greenfield’s testimony did not move the other members on the Security Council.

During the hearing Russia, China, India and Brazil called for an investigation into the US-funded Biolabs in Ukraine.

These countries represent about half of the world’s population.

And just think, India and Brazil were close American allies a little over a year ago!

Nobody believes the Biden regime’s lies anymore.

How sad America has fallen in just a little over a year.
