

‘Still no FBI raid...’ Top conservatives demand to know why Biden hasn’t been probed for keeping classified documents like Trump was, as president attends mass in Delaware

Description

Conservatives on social media are aghast the FBI has still not raided President Biden’s Delaware residence following the discovery of a fresh trove of classified documents.

Prominent members of the GOP expressed both frustration and disbelief as they questioned why the FBI has not taken action similar to the raid they conducted on former President Trump’s Mar-A-Lago property last year.

President Biden was back in his home state this weekend and was spotted coming out of St. Joseph on the Brandywine Catholic Church in Delaware on Saturday night.

Biden was photographed together with his wife, Dr. Jill Biden after attending mass and presumably praying for this entire episode to come an end. But it didn’t stop his adversaries in Congress piling on the pressure throughout the day.

Republican Congresswoman Lauren Boebert tweeted, 'ANOTHER trove of classified documents found in the Biden residence. This is after Cringe Karine said that the search of Biden's home was complete.'

'Looks like they've got documents coming out of the woodworks over in Wilmington. Still no FBI raid...'

Texas Republican Senator Ted Cruz was even more succinct as he tweeted, 'Full FBI raid happens when?'

Fox News contributor Mollie Hemingway tweeted, 'Remember when the FBI raided Mar-A-Lago over a presidential paperwork dispute they had no patience resolving after spending years patiently resolving other presidential paperwork disputes and not even noticing VP Biden hoovered up classified docs and spreading them all over?'

Judicial Watch President Tom Fitton tweeted, 'Biden White House Counsel travels to Biden Delaware home with Biden DOJ officials to look for docs — AFTER Special Counsel is appointed? But Trump's home gets FBI raid after Biden DOJ officials refuse Trump offer to let them look through records. Biden DOJ is corrupt mess.'

The tweets came in response to the discovery of an additional five pages of classified documents at President Biden's Delaware residence, bringing the total number of classified documents found there to six.

Critics have also pointed out a perceived double standard, as President Biden's personal attorneys unexpectedly discovered documents with classified markings at his Penn Biden Center for Diplomacy and Global Engagement office on November 2nd, yet the White House did not inform the public before the November midterms.

Other Republican lawmakers also chimed in on Saturday.

'Wait, I thought the WH said on Thursday the search was complete and there were no more docs,' Josh Hawley wrote on Twitter on Saturday.

Marsha Blackburn jumped in as well, writing: 'Another batch of classified documents has been located at Biden's private residence. They keep coming.'

Senator Rick Scott wrote: 'Either @JoeBiden is an absolute hypocrite or completely clueless. Probably both. We need to get to the bottom of this. How long has he had these...6+ years? Time for accountability.'

Senator John Kennedy called out what he claimed was multiple problems within the current administration and called for accountability, writing: 'Just like the #BidenBorderCrisis, the Biden classified documents story is too big for the mainstream media to ignore—and the American people want answers.'

'MORE HIGHLY CLASSIFIED DOCUMENTS FOUND IN BIDEN'S HOME!!! How does this keep happening? Biden needs to disclose NOW how many documents were in his possession and where they were stored. As Vice President, he had NO RIGHT to hold onto this information!!' tweeted Texas Congressman Ronny Jackson using multiple exclamation marks and upper case letters.

'Will FBI do a pre-Dawn raid with 27 armed agents? Go through Jill's closets? Take his passport?' questioned Former Arkansas Governor Mike Huckabee.

'Hillary Clinton mishandled classified documents. Joe Biden mishandled classified documents. But the only one who gets his home raided is President Trump — and he didn't even do anything wrong!'

tweeted Ohio Congressman Jim Jordan.

'Biden's handlers did not just suddenly discover troves of purloined classified documents. You are watching the coverup — of an even bigger scandal — in real time,' suggested Former Senior Advisor to President Trump, Stephen Miller.

'Joe Biden mishandled classified documents. Trump did nothing and gets his home raided. Guess the FBI doesn't want Jill Biden's underwear,' wrote conservative actor Kevin Sorbo.

The White House has stated that it has handled both the discovery of the documents and the subsequent explanations in a 'transparent' way, yet questions have been asked by pundits from both political parties as to why the public were not told ahead of the midterms.

Biden has also been reminded of his own comments when he slammed former President Trump for harboring his own set of classified documents on his Mar-a-Lago estate which led to an FBI raid.

'How that could possibly happen, how one anyone could be that irresponsible?' Biden said in September to 60 Minutes.

Former President Donald Trump (right) has slammed the FBI and DOJ for targeting him over classified files while going easy on 'hopeless Joe' (referring to U.S. President Joe Biden pictured left) as he warns that the 'country is in serious trouble'

Earlier on Saturday Trump was seething on his Truth Social account as he sought to argue that Biden keeping classified documents is much worse than what he did saying Mar-A-Lago is 'essentially an armed fort.'

In his latest online posts, the former U.S. President slams the FBI and DOJ for targeting him over classified files while going easy on 'hopeless Joe' as he warns that the 'country is in serious trouble.'

'What Biden did was wrong, but he was given a reasonable and stable Special Counsel who is sane, inclined not to make waves, friendly with RINOs (republicans in name only), and is not known as a flame-throwing lunatic or a Biden hater,' Trump said.

'What I did was RIGHT, secured documents in a secured place, lock on the doors, guards and Secret Service all around, security cameras working.

'Mar-a-Lago is essentially an armed fort, and was built that way in the 1920's, with High Walls & structure to serve as the Southern W.H.'

Trump argued that Biden keeping classified documents is worse as they date back to when he was vice president, whereas Trump's position was higher as president.

'I was President of the U.S. and covered and protected by the Presidential Records Act, which is not criminal and allows and encourages you to talk to the NARA, which we were, very nicely, until the FBI, who it is now learned has been after me for years without pause or question, RAIDED Mar-a-Lago,' he said.

Trump has repeatedly claimed that he secretly declassified the documents he took home but that claim has been refuted by former senior officials and his lawyers have not made similar claims in court.

Biden's attorneys announced finding the third batch of classified documents on Saturday, stating that they found five additional pages that were marked classified inside his home on Thursday evening.

It brings the total to six classified documents to have been found at Biden's home in Delaware, as the first one was found in the garage.

The grand total of classified documents from Biden's days as vice president are now up to two dozen.

What's the easiest way to cover up Biden family crimes and corruption from Republican investigations?
Easy.

When R's take majority, have Biden's attorneys suddenly turn over classified docs found in multiple locations & have Biden's AG appoint a special counsel to "investigate."

Republican lawmakers did not take lightly to the revelations on Saturday

His personal attorneys discovered the documents in the room adjacent to the garage, but did not have clearance to view them, so they had to call in Richard Sauber, special counsel to the president.

'Because I have a security clearance, I went to Wilmington Thursday evening to facilitate providing the document the President's personal counsel found on Wednesday to the Justice Department,' Sauber said, according to Fox News.

'While I was transferring it to the DOJ officials who accompanied me, five additional pages with classification markings were discovered among the material with it, for a total of six pages. The DOJ officials with me immediately took possession of them.

'The President's lawyers have acted immediately and voluntarily to provide the Penn Biden documents to the Archives and the Wilmington documents to DOJ,' he said.

Biden's personal lawyer, Robert Bauer, defended the delay in releasing the information, saying the president's legal team 'have attempted to balance the importance of public transparency where appropriate with the established norms and limitations necessary to protect the investigation's integrity.'

'These considerations require avoiding the public release of detail relevant to the investigation while it is ongoing,' he said in a statement.

The latest discovery comes just days after two other sets were found. The first set of sensitive files were found at a DC office for his think tank and as the Biden administration dodged questions on whether they were tracking down any other records.

Earlier in the week, it was reported that in November 2022, attorneys for the president discovered documents at his former office in the Penn-Biden Center in Washington DC, which he used after his time as vice president.

The documents were discovered in a locked closet while the lawyers were cleaning out the office to move out.

The White House acknowledged that Biden's attorneys had found 10 documents with classified markings at an old office at a Washington DC think tank, the president has been peppered with questions about the discovery.

The classified documents that appeared to be from the Obama administration were found on November 2 – before the midterm elections – though news of the documents did not come out until months later.
