

Student Confronted Fake News Purveyor Brian Stelter From CNN At Disinformation Conference, And It Was Glorious! [WATCH]

Description

USA: The fake news attended the Atlantic's Disinfo 2022 Conference this week in Chicago.

At the conference were issued different speeches by purveyors of truths:

- Barack Obama — behind the Russia collusion hoax, and you can keep your doctor's lie
- Jeffrey Goldberg behind the unsourced Trump called military heroes "dumbasses" lie
- Anne Applebaum, a deep state propagandist behind the Trump-Russia collusion lie

CNN's Brian Stelter was on a panel with Trump-hating Stephen Hayes and others to talk about how the media platforms shape consumer realities.

The MSM has landed on the wrong study on every huge story in the past years, and they want to spread fake news.

One student, Christopher Philips, destroyed CNN's Stelter with different fake news stories the channel promoted to the American public.

"You've all spoken extensively about Fox News being a purveyor of disinformation, but CNN is right up there with them," Phillips said.

"They pushed the Russian collusion hoax. They pushed the Jussie Smollett hoax. They smeared Justice Kavanaugh as a rapist, and they also smeared Nick Sandmann as a white supremacist. And yes, they dismissed the Hunter Biden laptop affair as pure Russian disinformation," Phillips narrated.

“With mainstream corporate journalists becoming little more than apologists and cheerleaders for the regime, is it time to finally declare that the canon of journalistic ethics is dead or no longer operative? All the mistakes of the mainstream media and CNN, in particular, seem to magically all go in one direction. Are we expected to believe that this is all just some sort of random coincidence, or is there something else behind it?” he asked.
