

Trump news – live: Trump explodes after Biden Afghanistan review blames him for chaotic withdrawal

Description

Donald Trump has angrily hit back at the Biden administration’s review of Afghanistan, which blamed him for the chaos that unfolded as the US left the country in August 2021.

“These Morons in the White House, who are systematically destroying our Country, headed up by the biggest Moron of them all, Hopeless Joe Biden, have a new disinformation game they are playing – Blame “TRUMP” for their grossly incompetent SURRENDER in Afghanistan,” the criminally charged former president wrote on Truth Social.

Earlier, Mr Trump described his arrest and arraignment as an “unbelievable experience” and the “Best Day in History” – when he became the first current or former US president ever charged with a crime.

“As much as I can enjoy a day like Tuesday, where the Radical Left Lunatics, Maniacs, and Perverts had me Indicted and ARRESTED for no reason whatsoever, there was no Crime, it was an unbelievable experience, perhaps the Best Day in History for somebody who had just suffered Unjustifiable Indictment!” he wrote on Truth Social on Wednesday night.

Despite his claims, he appeared glum when he pleaded not guilty to 34 felony counts in Manhattan Criminal Court on Tuesday.

Stormy Daniels said that she felt "sad" to see Donald Trump make history as the first president to be arrested and arraigned in court on criminal charges linked to hush money payments he made to her.

The adult film actor told Piers Morgan that she had expected to be "excited" to see the former president appear before a New York judge but instead admitted she found her actual emotions on the day "shocking."

"At first I thought I would be really excited when that day finally came as I did not think it would, and then I really didn't think it would.

"I thought he was going to get away with not being held accountable. When I found out it was coming, or potentially coming I thought I would feel excited or vindicated but it was kind of anticlimactic," she told Morgan on TalkTV.
