

Two Plead Guilty To Stealing Ashley Biden's 'Inappropriate Showers With Dad' Diary

Description

USA: Two Florida residents have pleaded guilty to stealing Ashley Biden's diary and other belongings, before selling them to Project Veritas in the weeks leading up to the 2020 US election.

Aimee Harris, 40, and Robert Kurlander, 58, admitted they took part in a conspiracy to transport stolen materials from Florida, where Ashley Biden had been living, to New York, according to the New York Times.

“Harris and Kurlander stole personal property from an immediate family member of a candidate for national political office,” said Damian Williams, the U.S. attorney for the Southern District of New York.

And while Project Veritas declined to publish the diary (and were still raided by the Biden DOJ), the National File did publish excerpts on Oct. 24, 2020 – and the full diary two days later. While treated as potentially fake at the time, we now know that the contents are legit – including claims that Joe took ‘probably inappropriate’ showers with Ashley, and that she believes she was sexually molested as a child

Entries in the diary include the author revealing she believes she was sexually molested as a child and shared "probably not appropriate" showers with her father, some that detail the author's struggle with drug abuse and the author's crumbling marriage with multiple affairs, along with entries showing the family's fears of a potential scandal due to her brother's new home, and those that show a deep resentment for her father due to his money, control, and emotional manipulation. -National File

A photograph of an open notebook showing two pages of handwritten text in cursive. The left page contains a paragraph about not wanting to have sex, mentioning a friend who is a sex addict. The right page continues the thought, mentioning a need to kiss a guy and going to an AA meeting. The handwriting is somewhat slanted and the ink is dark.

I didn't have to do it. But maybe it would be healing and then again maybe it would open up more wounds that will take me longer to adjust + get over with. I am going to give it a few days + see how I feel. I erased his number from my phone - so can't contact him unless he is to contact me which he won't. I think I need to have sex in order to feel good about not having sex + to get it over with. Neil's friend is a sex addict which might work out well.

I know its not the healthiest way to deal with things but @ least its better then drugs. I am focused on myself + my needs + sex seems - @ least at this moment to be one of them. I don't know if I even need to kiss a guy - just come over + fuck me - sober. I think I'm going to go to the AA meeting tomorrow night. And maybe he will be there? maybe not. But I have always been boy crazy. I remember pulling up my skirt in 2nd

How did it make its way to Project Veritas?

In the spring of 2020, as Joe Biden was in the process of clinching the Democratic presidential nomination, Ashley was living in Delray Beach, FL with said friend "who had rented a two-bedroom house lined with palm trees with a large swimming pool and wraparound driveway," according to people familiar with the matter.

In June, however, Ashley visited the Philadelphia area as Joe's campaign was ramping up.

"She decided to leave some of her belongings behind, including a duffel bag and another bag," according to the report.

Several weeks after Ashley left the Delray house, the friend who hosted her invited an ex-girlfriend named Aimee Harris and her two children to move in. Harris, in the middle of a custody dispute and financial woes, appears to have been a Trump supporter according to 'social media postings and conversations.' She learned that Ashley Biden had stayed there, and that some of her things had been left behind, according to two people familiar with the matter.

Exactly what happened next remains the subject of the federal investigation. But by September, the diary had been acquired from Ms. Harris and a friend by Project Veritas, whose operations against liberal groups and traditional news organizations had helped make it a favorite of Mr. Trump.

*In a court filing, Project Veritas told a federal judge that around Sept. 3, 2020, someone the group described as "a tipster" called Project Veritas and left a voice message . The caller said "a new occupant moved into a place where Ashley Biden had previously been staying and found Ms. Biden's diary and other personal items."

The "diary is pretty crazy," the tipster said on the voice mail, according to a Project Veritas court filing. "I think it's worth taking a look at." -NYT

Court filings reveal that Project Veritas bought the diary (though never published it), through an unnamed proxy identified as "A.H." and "R.K." – Harris and Robert Kurlander, a self-described venture capitalist, longtime friend, and former housemate of Harris. 27 years ago, Kurlander "pleaded guilty in federal court in Florida to a conspiracy count in a drug-related money laundering scheme" and was sentenced to 40 months in prison, per the Times, which added that the same case resulted in a guilty plea from David Witter – grandson of the founder of Dean Witter.

Days before the 2020 election, Kurlander tweeted: “Where are Biden’s two kids?” adding “Ashley and Hunter are disasters. Reflection of the parents.”

Are we allowed to talk about the ‘probably inappropriate showers’ now?
