

Ukraine's denazification operation: operative summary on 5 March (updated)

Description

UKRAINE/RUSSIA: 22:17 Our Cabinet source in Kiev reports that the OP and the SBU understand that "losing" control of Mariupol and Kharkiv will undermine morale and possibly trigger the domino principle among other cities in the country. Therefore, the case for humanitarian corridors for civilians will be delayed as much as possible, thereby buying time.

18:50 Poroshenko and Turchinov have left Kiev and are now at a roadblock near Ivano-Frankivsk. A long way from the line of contact.

18:41 Russian servicemen have taken control of a military base of the Ukrainian Armed Forces near the village of Radiensk, Kherson Region.

18:23 The Ukrainian military has destroyed the spillway of a dam across the Severskyy Donets in the Stary Saltiv settlement in Volchansk district, Kharkiv Region, to slow down the advance of the Russian army towards Kharkiv.

18:17 The AFU is leaving its military base in Kherson. Meanwhile, the stubborn terrorists, who are given arms by Kiev's authorities, continue to tear down populated areas and kill civilians. Moreover, the war party, as we have repeatedly warned, is hatching plans not only to eliminate people physically but also to organize a humanitarian disaster for those it is holding hostage. We have documents at our disposal which confirm the above. This is a plan to mine bridges at Kakhovskoe Reservoir. Further comments are unnecessary. And those who are still drowning for Zelu and the Nazis should once again think hard about who the enemy really is.
