

Wall Street analyst: COVID vaccines 'greatest fraud in history' (VIDEO 40 min)

Description

Former BlackRock portfolio manager Edward Dowd explains to WND how he and his Wall Street insurance analyst partner came to conclude, based on CDC data, that the COVID vaccines were the chief cause of an astonishing rise in deaths among the Millennial generation.

Dowd and a Wall Street insurance analyst with whom he has teamed conclude the CDC data show the Millennial generation suffered a "Vietnam War event," with more than 61,000 excess deaths from March 2021 to February 2022.

Dowd said his role mostly is to provide interpretation and analysis of the data while the insurance expert is "doing the heavy lifting" of compiling it.

He said his partner in the project, who has actuarial training, analyzed the insurance industry on Wall Street for seven years. The insurance expert, Dowd said, currently is presenting the data to a financial group and will eventually reveal his identity.

Dowd also has examined the Pfizer clinical trial data provided by whistleblower Brook Jackson, concluding it, and the fact that Pfizer tried to hide it for 75 years, point to "clinical fraud."
