Trozzi: We have the pleasure of being here with Dr. Chris Shoemaker.

And as I'm sure most of you know, and we've been following Dr. Shoemaker, he's done an awful lot, an awful lot in recent months to try and to save Canadian lives, to make sure that scientific reality has something to do with going on. He's just been bang on with the science, but he's a man with a passion, and you could tell love for his patients. And I guess that includes all of us because he's looking out for all of us.

And there we have the sign. I think I'm sure we saw that sign in front of the City Hall in Toronto with the videos up and that flag.

Dr. Shoemaker, thank you for taking the time to be with us, and “no more shots. Denmark or here.”

Shoemaker: Yes, Mark. Hi. That was the message. I'll adjust a little bit so I get on camera in a second here.

Trozzi: Thank you.

Shoemaker: That was the message. I was near Toronto City Hall, Old City Hall, for ten straight days. I just felt a need, I literally felt a need to go and feel the sense of vigil. Because I knew how much, children especially were being harmed by this shot. And to have repeated shots would just be horrific for them. And we've got to stop the repetition. It's the repetition of shots for both adults and children that we have to avoid. So, I went there in prayer for that, and I just said, “Lord, I'll accept whatever comes my way.” And in the end, about six or seven or eight different videographers came my way and were willing to have interviews with me and let me speak to these issues. And at the end, we had a rally with a good crowd of people at the end to say even more. And I just felt so touched by the outreach of people in Toronto who were willing to hear some new messages, the real message of what could save them from Covid.

Trozzi: Awesome. It's interesting, for some reason, you bring to mind Dr. Shoemaker, a metaphor that's come to me a lot over the last couple of years, which is: this idea of being on a cruise ship and the hull has got a big crack, and it's in danger of sinking way out there in the deep sea. And if it goes down, everybody goes down with it, even the swimmers, ultimately. And, you know, there are people who are up in the buffet trying to keep their spot in the line-up for dessert, maybe with some of the people running down below, there are extra desserts. And while you have some people just kind of oblivious and don't want to miss the dinner party up in the lounge, you got some people down on the bottom of that ship trying to stop it from sinking because they know really what's going on. And that's definitely you. Definitely. I'm honoured to be your friend.

Shoemaker: Mark, you've been at this a lot longer than me. I woke up in November/December of 2021, to do more and to know more. And at this point, we just have to do more and know more, because everything that we worried about and predicted might happen and how nefarious it all was, we now see fact after fact after huge fact that chose how nefarious it was. And although I went down to talk about how Denmark had finally woken up and Denmark had banned the vax for 17-year-old children and under immediately or effective August 31, halfway through my vigil, it became proof - it was cancelled for children 17 years and younger for Denmark.

Update: [Denmark Bans Covid Vaccines for Under-50s But Doesn't Properly Explain Why, Daily Sceptic, 15 September 2022]

And in the 8 days since that, the miracle, the further miracle, has been, Britain has made the two big announcements since then. First, announcing that they could no longer recommend for pregnant women, or for their foetuses, that pregnant women be injected. It was clearly deleterious to them, and they were taking away that recommendation out of the goodness of their hearts. We've been seeing horrific data for the last nine months, to be honest. Britain made it official.

And then the other thing they made official just in the last I think it's 48 hours, they have to lessen the recommendations for 50 years and younger. They finally realise what we've been telling them. Thank God.

[Most recent JCVI advice on the autumn Covid-19 booster campaign, 2022, as per Greenbook updated 4 September 2022]

Trozzi: Dr. Shoemaker, I want to swim right down deep into this one because we both know the science really well and the numbers. Why I don't know if there's an answer for this, but why are the Ministries of Health – federally, provincially - why is the College of Physicians and Surgeons, why is the CBC, and why is everybody submitting to them and going along with them, whether they're journalists or doctors? Why are they literally choosing, ultimately, statistically, to kill people?

Shoemaker: Oh boy. Well, I don't know. That it's an interesting question, and I'm a bit flummoxed to give you an answer. Say it one more time, one other way, if you don't mind, and it'll probably take me to the right place.

Trozzi: Well, I find it hard to believe. Okay, let's talk about the likes of Tedros and Dam and Trudeau and Elliot and Whitmore. People that are, they have a responsibility to know the science, to know the medicine, to know the statistics. If they claim they don't know or they claim like I'm trying to remember, was it Williams, the guy who admitted “Oh, I don't even read the papers, I just say what they tell me to.” And these are the top doctors leading the province.

But when you know that at a minimum, just to grab some of the numbers, at a minimum five [inaudible] data - 3% of the people dead within a few months of the shots for a cold that - yes, the rest of the people made it - but for a cold with a 0.3% less mortality. And then to know the massive, you've pointed out to us before, the massive harms in kids. Like 113 times more likely to die. You pointed out UK data. Even the oldest age group are 100% more likely to die in the months following the injection [inaudible]. So, the best you do is double your odds of dying in six months. And if you're younger, 113 times the odds of dying. These are real statistics.

Anybody in any position of authority has the responsibility to know that. I cannot make this any ... People are like, is it safe? Is it effective? My God. It's murder. Like, am I the only one here? Do you feel the same way, Doctor Shoemaker?

Shoemaker: Well, 113 times more likely to die is 11,300%. They take drugs off the market if there is a 4 and a 5% elevation in all-cause mortality. Vioxx, when it was taken off the market, was causing an overall 3, 4, 5%. But it was real, it was significant. And people had to stop taking it because that percentage meant a lot of the people taking it were suffering. Because it was all-cause mortality in all people. And not all people were taking Vioxx. So, to give that little bump of 4/5% of all-cause mortality in all people meant that a whole whack of people taking Vioxx were dying because of the Vioxx.

So, this is astronomical compared to that! They've never had death rates like this elevate in insurance industries. And Edward Dowd telling us things on the insurance side. Casket orders going through the roofs, small casket orders going through the roofs, in America.

This is not happening because there's a GMO change in your breakfast cereal, ladies and gentlemen. This is happening because some organised cult is giving shot after shot after shot to parents and now to their children. That's why death rates are increasing so massively. Let's get right to it right now. And we're going to move very quickly from this interview right now to major, major opposition in the streets about this. Because the numbers are literally so horrific now. And we could go into that another way, but I say that to the full audience: "It's time to get vigorously active on this point. And for many of the vaxxed and who have been thinking, there's only one way to go, hey, you were fooled. You were fooled big time. And your child might not have died, but your neighbour's child up the street has died because they took a shot to play hockey." This is because the shots are toxic. They were planned to be toxic.

You mentioned Tedros, how he could do or say these things? Huh. He doesn't care. He's a nut job and a murderer from long ago and he's just been inappropriately put at the head of the WHO. So, everything we could do to get the WHO out of our lives and that maniac out of our lives, we should do. As citizens of independent countries, we have to speak up. I hope people from the States are watching this. I hope some people from Canada. It's just time to wake up, all of us. Thank you, Mark.

Trozzi: So true. I know it becomes a bit of a rhetorical question, but in the province of Ontario, like many places, in the province of Ontario, in the country of Canada, you have ministers of health like Elliott and Kieran, I think is the new guy [Kieran Moore is Chief Medical Officer of Health of Ontario; Sylvia Jones is the Ontario minister of health since 24 June 2022]. You have heads of regulatory bodies like in Ontario, Nancy Whitmore. You have federal ministers of health. And we've switched them up lately, but they've kept the agenda going. People should know their names.

And in Ontario, for instance, we have a new thing. They say there's a doctor shortage. Well, where've all the doctors gone? I know some of them died from the

injection, but that doesn't account for the whole doctor shortage. I know a lot of them. I know one right in front of me, who would be in a clinic to take care of people but he's on the street warning people because that's where he's going to have the impact. You got another one here doing the same thing, right? You have a lot of doctors who ... like there are three things that they take away a doctor's license for in this province, and in light of what we're talking about, it's unbelievable because the other thing you've advocated for is using the medicine that works for Covid: ivermectin, along with [inaudible]. We could go into all the technical details, but we both know ivermectin is the best and safest anti-viral for coronaviruses and mRNA viruses. So, anyone who prescribes that for Covid loses their license and is not allowed to touch people in Ontario, as a doctor.

Anyone who writes a note, even like the ones I wrote, which just said, "this person doesn't want the injection," which makes it illegal to give them the injection - that's assault. Whether it's good or not. You're not allowed to do something to someone they don't want. If somebody else talks to the [inaudible], "hockey guy says he's got to have the shot," kid doesn't want, his dad doesn't want - I can't give it to him, that's against the law, that's assault.

So, whether you wrote notes like mine, and they're called medical exemption, or whether somebody said, "well, this person, because she's pregnant and she doesn't actually want to abort the baby, she's exempted from the injection," any doctor that does that - license yanked under the order of Nancy Whitmore of our province. And anybody who says anything like I'm seeing right now, license yanked. What is going on here?

Shoemaker: Well, Newsom wants to do it even more so in California. Make it a total dictatorial state where all of those things are off the table, where the privacy that used to be considered the same privacy as between a priest and their penitent, that was the privacy that was considered the norm for doctor and their patient. And of course, we've got a certain invasion of privacy because of electronic records and everything that goes into the hospital. It's supposed to stay private, hey, but it's also digital. Who's to say where it goes ultimately? And how many people know that you have whatever stage cancer that you're walking around with and you didn't really want them to know it? But the system makes it possible for it to be shared.

And once you've got that sense of it isn't sacrosanct, it isn't private between one or two doctors and their patients and their closest family. And there's just a sense in society that it can be shared, then people, they stop losing their boundaries. The patient loses a sense of boundary, the doctor loses a sense of boundary. And therefore, "oh, I'm not really being treated specially with this patient, so I'll just view all patients a little bit benignly and equal, but I'll lose the sense of really taking care of this one patient because it's private between them and me."

And when that gets lost, there's a certain sense of hope that's even lost between doctor and patient. When the whole system comes down and says, "yeah, that's lost for you guys. It's big time lost. And we'll just come in and we'll be the social bureaucrats that will organise your life. We've never studied a wit in medical school. We couldn't diagnose an illness if we fell over it. But we will tell you how to talk about and how to diagnose illnesses.”

And they've blown it. Society has blown it by not respecting the probable likelihood that a moral physician will probably do moral things. And when they're taken that way, there's a certain hope that's taken away and immoral things can then start happening around the doctor and patient and they're not allowed to complain. And there's going to be no noise made about it. If you start making noise about it, you'll be looked upon as a malcontent. We're not malcontents. We're just people who want to take care of people. And we will do that, ladies and gentlemen. Let's not lose any hope whatsoever.

This is literally the turning point right now in all of this, Mark. We're going to turn the corner on this. We're going to be reaching out and talking to politicians very vigorously because, hey, the politicians are already talking among themselves. Do you think Joe Biden's people aren't having a chitchat over to Denmark and saying, “hey, we're running to push it down to 6/7-year-olds, 4-year-olds, 3-year-olds and 6 months old? What are you doing? What are you doing you stupid people in Denmark? Stopping shots for what? All of the kids? You're wrecking our public policy.”

Well, good on Denmark. You wrecked the hell out of Joe Biden's policy. Please, save some children's lives with this wonderful demonstration of where we should go. Stop the shots in kids first, and then stop the shots in adults within the next month and a half as well.

Trozzi: I agree with you, and I'm sure you agree with me. There is not one demographic. There's no age group disease pattern. There's no one on this planet for whom I would recommend ... well, except maybe the people dishing it out ... but there was no good human being on this planet that I would recommend this injection for. And I've sat in committees - I've been doing this for two years - I sat in committees of international scientists, guys who are treating us, guys who are places like, where they want to treat it, like Patrick Phillips and the government tries to tie their hand and persecute them.

But the bottom line is, I've sat with large groups of people - early on, six months ago, twelve months ago, when people were starting to go, “well, this shot is probably not good for kids. They don't really get sick.” And finally, I said to them, I said: “Listen. Is there anyone I was talking to,” at least 15 scientists, I said, “is there anyone here, is there anyone you would recommend a shot for? Any age, any demographic, pre-existing disease, whatever?” And everybody looked at me all like this. I said, “exactly. This shot must be stopped 100% for everybody - yesterday.”

We're celebrating Denmark, like, slowing down on their eugenics program and saying, “okay, we killed them. You know, we've damaged enough of the kids.” But like you said, this thing's just got to be shut down. And the best way to shut it down, people, just don't let anybody stick a needle in you.

Shoemaker: Oh, no question. We should all – we've had two shots. Sadly, accidentally, or just through coercion. Do as I did stop it, too. Do not take the third. Do not take the fourth. If you've had four, for goodness' sake, I'm so glad that you've survived to this point. But if you think you'll be surviving more than five more years if you take two more shots, you won't. There's nobody who will live more than seven years who gets seven shots. Like, literally nobody. And I say that with a completely straight face and complete and utter belief because I know how toxic these nanoparticles are.

One particular fact that I learned, and I [] more of was, I hadn't realised there were literally 40 trillion mRNAs - 40,000 billion little mRNA strands going into your shoulder with every shot. There's no vaccine in the history of the world, Mark and/or ladies and gentlemen, that had numbers like that.

Polio. You only get 80 viral elements per shot. What do you get over a lifetime? Four shots to keep you from getting polio in that range? So, 320 over a whole lifetime. 320 over a whole lifetime, and we're putting 40,000 billion viral protein-generating, spike protein-generating mRNAs that can literally go anywhere. Other vaccines can't cross the blood-brain barrier, Mark. They can't cross the ovary barrier. They cannot cross the placenta barrier. They are made so they can't cross those barriers. That's what makes a true vaccine safe. This vaccine, this bullshit shot, pardon my ... this bullshit shot is meant to cross those barriers and meant to harm you and all of your tissues.

Trozzi: Amen.

Shoemaker: What does that mean? It means that if you survive and it doesn't kill you in two, three, or four years - it will certainly make you infertile. It'll certainly abort any baby that you're trying to take or produce. I mean, we know the truth, Mark. We know the truth. I'm a bit energetic about right now, but why shouldn't I be? I should be energetic about it. And we have to stop it, everybody. The courts have to stop it. The people have to stop it.

These are no longer ... we know that they're not successful vaccines. They make it more likely for you to get Covid. So, by definition, it's a useless piece of crap. If it was a vaccine, it's not good for the purpose. It makes you more likely to get Covid. And it makes them more likely to get other diseases, and it makes it more likely that you'll die two to three to four times more likely than your non-vaccinated neighbour.

Is that not enough to convince you to stop taking the shots? We'll help you, everybody. We have the means of helping you. The ivermectin we spoke of, has to be vigorously legal, big time legal, across Canada within the month. That's my personal goal. I am going to get every province to get ivermectin on the shelves.

Because, once again, another jurisdiction has given us the example. New Hampshire, for three months now, they put ivermectin on the shelves, and they said, "you pharmacists can dispense it." Just like we've allowed our pharmacists to dispense packs of [the Covid shot] on a general medical directive. There in New Hampshire, it's a good drug. It's ivermectin that's allowed to be dispensed on a general medical directive if a patient has a willingness or desire and a few symptoms that make it the right thing to do. So individual states like Tennessee, like Kansas, and like New Hampshire, they've all done it. We wish all ten provinces to do it within the next 30 days. It's time, ladies and gentlemen. It's the only medicine that cures long Covid. It's the only medicine that helps you fight, unless your doctor fights with you, if you've got a vaccine injury. It's the key to a vaccine injury protocol. It's time. It's time. This is over because the science is strong. The science is huge, that ivermectin is the thing that should always be available. But now that we've created this crisis, we need it even more. We need it even more in Canada, in everywhere.

And the shots should be in the landfills period. Put all the vials in the landfill. It's a piece of dangerous, dangerous, dangerous toxic crap.

Trozzi: Again, you and me, we had to study and experience a lot to come to where we're seeing what we're seeing. We didn't make this up. We didn't bang our heads walking out of the hospital, slip on the ice, nothing like that. Neither did Hawth, nor Christian, nor Phillips, nor Killian. The list goes on and on. Nor Maltos, nor Melbourne.

Shoemaker: Wonderful. Love them all, wonderful.

Trozzi: You can go on like this is not normal. People in just the province of Ontario alone, right? You've got probably close to 100, very minimum 50 because I know of 50, but probably more than that. Doctors who are having their license suspended or revoked or in the process of it because of one of three things:

- Prescribing the cure for Covid. Which is also the treatment for the spike protein poisoning induced by these injections.
- For writing a note saying this person should be injected. Or if you can inject someone who doesn't want to be injected.
- Or for saying anything that goes against this mass murder.

And then you have a whole bunch of doctors who finally quit when it came down to getting injected. They stayed at the hospital because they got to make their payments or whatever it was. They kept a little quiet. They told the neighbour, "I'd love to tell you, but I can't tell you, but don't take the shot." Right? And when their hospital said, "listen, the days of swabbing, your nose are over, you either take the shot or go home" - they went home. They went home to stay alive. They went home to not take a major risk to their health. Right?

Shoemaker: That is called informed refusal. Everybody talks about informed consent all the time. Informed consent, I've got to have informed consent. But the thought is, well, in the end, you consent, right?

Well, it's not always right to consent. If you see that the surgeon's hands are shaking a certain afternoon he's supposed to operate on, you just don't like the look of it. You're allowed to say, "no, I'm not signing the papers for surgery today. I think I'll wait tomorrow until the other guy comes on." You don't have to explain yourself, but you don't have to consent to sign the paper to have that operation at that moment. You can have any number of reasons to want to say "no." And therefore, people should have, do have the right. What we have is the right to refuse. Consent shouldn't be an issue. What we have is the right to refuse a medical act against us. Anything that involves a knife or a needle going into our body is something that as human sentient beings - I thought we were sentient beings, not just wandering around in a farmyard, we're sentient beings - we have a right to refuse the knife or refuse the needle. And especially because the true science has shown us this is an extremely dangerous planned injection system. Where the vaccine was literally planned in the same years that Covid was being developed.

Covid was being developed in his aerosolised form, in labs in Wuhan and who knows where, in the same six-year period, 2013 to 2019, [that] the vaccines were being worked on in America in parallel with the same genomic constructs as what was going to be released in 2019. Because none of them working on this really knew what the year of release was going to be they had to be working on it for 6/7 years. It just turned out to be 2019 when it happened.

But the nefarious activity was planned and coordinated and, of course, the vaccine is worse than the disease itself. If something only goes in in aerosolised form and has to fight its way through mucus and a respiratory system to do you harm. Oh, well, just take the same stuff - 40,000 billion of them - and let's put them directly into the bloodstream where it goes anywhere.

Trozzi: And have them actually manufactured, like literally hack your gene interpreting systems even in your brain cells and your ovaries. Even through the placenta into the unborn child. Even to the unborn child's brain. And have cells everywhere producing the most toxic part of the weaponised version of SARS-CoV-2.

Shoemaker: And Mark, I'll just return to something we talked about, I think a little bit in our last time, but that imagery. But the truth is why it's so bad is it's not just a poisonous effect of the entity when it's in you. But the most toxic effect is your system's response to it. Once it's in the heart cells, your body starts to recognise your heart cells as non-human. The presence of this little mRNA factor in your heart cells means your whole transplant rejection system, or tissue rejection system that's going to reject non-host tissue, thinks that your heart is not your heart. And you get basically this myocarditis is like a heart transplant rejection. Your inflammation in your aorta, that like split your aorta, is a transplant tissue rejection where the human response system attacks its own humanness and one bit of tissue or another collapses.

And for Justin Bieber, it was a facial nerve that collapsed. For his wife, it was a stroke in her own brain that collapsed. For other people, it's huge clots in their bowel and they're having bowel surgery and bowel resection because that's where the thrombosis occurred. And for others, it's just a protein-based blockage in their heart and lung and central pulmonary tissues. And it's a 14-year-old child and they're collapsing "for no reason while playing basketball." Oh, there's a reason all right. When they drew a true autopsy, they see major lymphatic, personal your own lymph tissues, attacking your own tissues because of the presence of a purposely planned biological entity placed in you.

And people want to give it to you every six to nine months. No, no, everybody - this stops. This is six to nine months of slow murder of people that will happen, the more you offer your shoulder. The more you offer your shoulder to the government, you're offering up your life and you're offering up your genetics, your ability to have children and/or have grandchildren. It ain't happening, folks. If these shots continue into the 4th, 5th and 6th generations, it ain't happening.

And in fact, there's already a lot of damage from two and I'm sad about that. I do what I can. I take my pine needle tea. I take a little bit of ivermectin. That's helpful to me. Folks, I want Ivermectin available for everybody. I don't want you to have to go to the veterinary clinic or the veterinary store to get some of this medicine. It has to be made perfectly and ethically legal in all of your pharmacies. And start picking up the phone and start calling your government representatives - that you know that this is the truth, that serious doctors know that this is the truth and you want medicines that will keep you healthy. And you want needles out of your arms because they are not keeping you healthy. They're making you four times more likely to get Covid, let alone everything else.

Trozzi: Amen. And folks, we got to stop this from the top down. And the top is complex - geopolitically, I'm speaking. Everything is the same biologically, is true. Like that's it, if you want it now, you've had informed consent. But who hears that truth and wants this suicide? But the WHO is the conduit through which Big Pharma and Gates and GAVI and all the groups that have massively profited while reducing the population and taking over the business and centralising wealth and making us all a bunch of slaves. They use the WHO, that's the conduit. Through there they manipulate, and they're trying to increase their power and dig their fingers deeper into our governments, Canada and everywhere. I mean, we got a whole bunch of WEF [World Economic Forum] guys in our country here.

But the WHO ... people, keep an eye out for my newsletter coming out, God willing, Friday morning. Hopefully, I'll get it up by then. But exit the WHO - #ExitTheWHO, #StopTheWHO. For the treatment protocols, if like my good friend here, if you've had a couple of those injections or one of those injections and you got these spike proteins being produced by yourselves, go to the World Council for Health, go to the Spike Protein Detox Guide. Dr. Shoemaker is aware of that. The FLCCC do a great job [and] Canada Covid Care Alliance. These are very similar protocols. There's a variety of things you can do, both natural and medicinal, including one of the safest, most effective medications in the history of mankind - ivermectin.

To find out more about ivermectin you can also visit [British Ivermectin Recommendation Development Group (BIRD Group)]

But take action. If you want to help take this out, first of all, we must exit the WHO. That's the number one thing to [inaudible] our politicians. This is a criminal organisation. This is mass murder. This isn't some mistake. This isn't something that [just] happened. This was planned. And anybody crushing that, do some homework before you just go take your shot, fine. But all countries must exit the WHO, and stop funding them.

Shoemaker: Sorry, Michael. I jump in to say: I'm all with Exit the WHO and we all have to, in our own minds, exit the hurt. We're being thrown a whole lot of hurt here, including the psychological separateness of people on the two sides. Please people, I pray that you just seriously think about ... we're not saying this to make something up. It's completely dangerous. It's completely harmful. We have to exit the hurt. We have to exit the harm.

The only thing you can do, one person at a time, you have to pull your shoulders back and say, my shoulders are not your shoulders anymore. My deltoid muscle is not your deltoid muscle. It's been completely disproven what you told us at the beginning, that it only goes into your deltoid muscles, stays there and gives you a post-inflammatory thing, like as in polio. No, it goes everywhere. There're 40,000 billion little troops that are going everywhere in you. This has never been done in the history of mankind.

People would go crazy to be told we're letting that amount of stuff, unproven stuff, into us that clearly is having this terrible lymphocytic transfusion reaction type thing going on in our body and damaging our tissues maliciously. Of course, we're not going to agree to that. Well, hey, everybody, that's what you should be saying. Because of course, you shouldn't agree to that because that's what it actually is. I'm sorry that's the deal. But hey ...

In the British study, non-vaccinated children continue to die at a low, modest, hardly noticeable rate, 10 to 14-year-olds. For the 10 to 14-year-olds that got the shot, their death rate went from 52 times more to 82 times more to now over 100 times more - that's 10,000%. You're 10,000% more likely to die if you're a 10 to 14-year-old if you're given the shot than if you don't.

Denmark aren't idiots. They don't want to make their children 10,000% more likely to die. Great Britain aren't total idiots, so they stopped it at age 12 for a while. The writing is on the wall, folks. If it's bad for 12-year-olds and bad for 17-year-olds, it means it's bad for 27-year-olds and bad for 37-year-olds. It's bad for the 42-year-old doctors dying in Mississauga, age 38, age 42, dying in the week after they get their fourth shot into their arm. They just collapse. No obvious reason. No health problems before, and they are dead as nails. Because they followed the rules. They didn't follow the science. They did follow the rules. God bless all of us. Let's stop following these stupid rules. Because the rules are malicious. The rules are scientifically dangerous. I've said enough. That's the rules.

Trozzi: Yes, let's go back to the old rules. Love one another as we would ourselves. Get back to truth.

Shoeman: Be cautious about what you put in your body. Be appropriately cautious. Be appropriately informed. Maybe wait seven or eight years for a true vaccine proof of safety before taking it, because that used to be the rule.

It took them seven years to get polio right. They harmed very few children and created actual, real polio in the children in the first six or seven years of studying how to do it properly. And finally, after seven years, it was correct enough and safe enough to be given actually to millions.

But we're doing it to the millions right off the hop, right within the first year. Ridiculous. Absolutely ridiculous. Causing deaths, period.

Well, Mark, it's late. I think we might have to let her go tonight. What do you think?

Trozzi: Yeah. My respect and gratitude, sir. Thank you from the people of Ontario. Thank you for standing up, for telling the truth, for doing your research, and for having a heart. Having a heart, man.

Shoemaker: And you too, Mark.

Trozzi: Thanks. God bless you, brother.

Shoemaker: Bye for now, everybody.

Trozzi: Take care. Bye.
