

WW III Could Occur Very SOON! Trump WARNS!

Description

USA: Former President Trump has warned the American population that the substantial military assistance the US gives could transform the crisis into World War III.

Trump stated at the Faith and Freedom Coalition in Nashville, Tennessee, that the US could create a WWII situation with the Biden admin's constant funding of the war in Ukraine.

"We just gave $40 billion on top of another $16 billion. So, we're in for $56 billion," he said regarding the aid packages the Biden administration has already approved for [redacted] amid the conflict with Russia.

"But when you look at Europe – and Germany, and France and all these other countries – they've given a tiny fraction, a tiny, tiny fraction of what we're giving. We're giving $56 billion and they're giving a few billion dollars. And they're the ones who are affected much more so," he said.

Trump once again blamed the conflict on President Joe Biden, who replaced him in the White House, insisting that "if I were president that would never have happened."

Trump added that the US wouldn't have any problems with Ukraine being attacked so fiercely if the election hadn't been stone. He lamented his and Putin's diplomatic relationship and added that Putin would never do this step if Trump were in the oval office.

The former president said that the panel is taking nine-hour depositions and putting up five-second tapes, making everybody look horrible.

Furthermore, President Trump talked about those facing charges for participating in the riots on J6.

However, Trump still has to declare whether he will run for president in the 2024 election or not.

A few politicians stated that they think he would choose a woman as his running mate. Some of the speculations are Gov. Kristi Noem of South Dakota, Rep. Elise Stefanik of New York, and Senator Marsha Blackburn of Tennessee.

It would be Governor Ron DeSantis of Florida as a male running mate.

Previously, Trump has declared that he won't pick Mike Pence as his running mate.
